Light Blue Embroidered Lehenga

A vertical rectangular frame with a solid maroon background. In the center, there is a white silhouette of a woman's body wearing a traditional Indian outfit, specifically a lehenga choli. The silhouette is oriented vertically, facing downwards. Above the woman's head, there is some white, decorative text in Devanagari script, which appears to be 'दंडा' (Danda). The overall composition is minimalist, focusing on the contrast between the white silhouette and the maroon background.

Emroidered Indian lehenga choli is immensely admired roundthe globe. It is one of the oldest forms of Indian lehenga choli developed during the times of tribal and nomadic as well as royal people of older times. Even in the present day, the traditional attire for women in Rajasthan and Gujarat is the lehenga choli or ghagra choli. While the tribal and rural women favored ikatembroidered lehenga cholis made up of cotton fabric bedecked with embroidery and other work, women belonging to royal families afford more intricate brocade touched and weighty ratios even with real gold and silver embroidery, studded off valuable stones.
