Embroidery is all about threads. Gold and silver threads are highly in demand today, as they are much in vogue nowadays and moreover convey royal feel to outfit. Other color threads like maroon, red, etc are also much in use. However, before choosing the thread for the embroidery, check whether the color of the fabric and the threads used is complementing each other or not. The embroidered bridal lehengas are available in diverse colors, from pastels to darker hues, like green, lemon, lilac, pink, sky blue etc to extravagant colors like dark green, blood red, maroon, purple, orange and soon.

Any lehenga whether silk, crepe, cotton, georgette gets an improved look with embroidery. The simple thread embroidered ghagras are fashionable and can be worn on festivals or other celebrations. However, for wedding and other formal occasions, heavy embroidered ghagras are chosen.

Embroidered Indian ghagra choli is immensely admired round the globe. It is one of the oldest forms of Indian lehenga choli developed since the times of tribal and nomads as well as royal people of olden times. Even in the present day, the traditional dress for women in Rajasthan and Gujarat is the lehenga choli or ghagra choli. While the tribal and rural women favored the embroidered lehenga choli made up of cotton fabric bedecked with embroidery and mirror work, women belonging to royal families afford more intricate brocade, tanchoi and weighty satins even with real gold and silver embroidery, studded with valuable stones
