A woman is the central figure, dressed in traditional Indian attire. She wears a bright yellow long-sleeved top with a green border at the hem. Over this, she has a green shawl or dupatta adorned with a delicate floral pattern in shades of pink and white. Her head is covered with a green veil (dupatta) that also features the same floral design. She is wearing a green bindi on her forehead and a necklace. Her hands are positioned near her chest. The entire scene is framed by a large, ornate, golden archway (prabhavali) with intricate carvings and a central dome. The background is a solid, light brown color.
